BAD FIRE CAUSED BY EXPLOSION

Kitchen of Shultz's Cafe Guttled by Flames, Gasoline Lighting Plant Explodes. Henry Sheely, Mrs. Shultz and Daughters Burned

Explosion of a gasoline illuminating plant in the kitchen of Shultz's Cafe on Carlisle street, caused a fire Wednesday evening which might have produced more serious results had not prompt action been taken by the Fire Company.

An alarm was sounded at twenty minutes past five o'clock and five minutes later the fire engine was connected to the plug at the southeast corner of Centre Square. In the meanwhile hose connection had been made to a plug on Carlisle street and a number of firemen were playing a stream of water on the blaze. The kitchen was entirely gutted by the flames and the first and second floors of the Shultz home were badly damaged by water.

Henry Sheely, Mrs. Shultz and her daughters were in the kitchen at the time of the explosion. Katie Shultz received burns about the head that required medical attention although her condition is not serious. Mrs. Shultz and Ruth were also slightly burned. Henry Sheely, who is employed at the cafe, had his hands severely burned while endeavoring to get Mrs. Shultz and the children out of the room.

The Shultz Cafe is located in a weather boarded building occupied by a number of other tenants and owned by John Weaver, who formerly conducted the cafe. It has for a number of years been considered a fire trap and more serious consequences were expected when the alarm was given. Quite a number of people were on the street at the time and a large crowd soon gathered. The flames were under control before six o'clock. Mr. Shultz's household effects are almost a total loss but are covered by insurance. The building is also insured. Business will be continued and repairs started as soon as arrangements can be made for them.

The college Freshmen debating team composed of W. W. Smith, I. M. Lotze and D. F. Keller, having defeated the Sophomore class team, exercised their privilege of contesting the Juniors Wednesday evening in Brua Chapel. F. E. Smith, J. H. Gross and G. R. Heim, the Junior team, argued the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved that capital punishment has not furnished society the protection intended and should therefore be abolished." Rev. J. B. Baker, I. L. Taylor and Wm. Arth McClean, judges, awarded the decision to the Juniors. The Freshmen team presented their side in an admirable manner but were weak in rebuttal. Decision was determined upon the basis of 60 points for argument and 40 points for delivery.

LITTLESTOWN WILL HEAR LECTURES

Agricultural Train with State College Farm Experts comes to Littlestown March 27th. Lecture for the Farmers Free.

Farmers of Adams county will, on March 27, have an opportunity to hear a number of lecturers from state college speak on agricultural topics. The Pennsylvania Railroad company has announced the route to be taken by its "Agricultural Special," a train run over the main lines of the system for the benefit of the farmers in the territory adjacent to the railroad. The train will visit Adams and York Counties on the fifth day of a five day trip through this section of the state and lectures will be given at Hallam, York, New Freedom, Littlestown, Hanover and Spring Grove. A lecture will be given at Dillsburg on March 28, when the train starts on a trip over the Cumberland Valley railway. The talks will be given in the train and will be free.

Four lectures will be given by a many experts at each stop the train makes. Corn, lime, dairying, orchard management, soil fertility, alfalfa and similar subjects will be discussed at each place. The lecturers will include the following professors from the faculty of the agricultural department of State college: Alva Agee, R. L. Watts, W. A. Cochel, H. E. Van Norman, Charles F. Noll, M. S. McDowell and J. P. Stewart. These men, or at least some of them, are well known to farmers and fruit growers of this county, having lectured here before at grange meetings and other affairs of like nature. Prof. Agee is the head of the State college school of agricultural and one of the best versed men in the country on scientific farming.

The "Agricultural Special" will be conducted on the same plan as the "Good Roads Special" was about this time last year. The object of the trip is to aid in reviving the interest in intensive farming along the main line of the Pennsylvania and Cumberland Valley railroads and those companies with the state agricultural department have combined in a plan of instruction.

SENATORS HEAR SUFFRAGE PLEAS

Leaders in Movement Besiege Congress.

MILLION VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

Women Present Their Views on Equal Suffrage to Committees of Both Branches of Congress.

Washington, March 14.—Leaders in the national movement for woman's suffrage had a "big time" at the capitol. Hearings were held by both the senate and the house committees on pending bills providing for the extension of the ballot to women.

Among the well known leaders of the movement who urged action by congress were Rev. Dr. Anna H. Shaw, Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago; Miss Inez Milholland, Alice Stone Blackwell, Mrs. Harriet Burton Laidlaw, Miss Eleanor O'Reilly, of New York, and Ida Husted Harper. The entire official board of the National American Woman's Suffrage association was, in fact, divided between the senate and the house committees.

More than 400 women were jammed into the little hearing room of the house judiciary committee when Chairman Clayton dropped his gavel to still the flutter of gossip. Chairman Clayton announced that Miss Jane Addams, the well known Hull House worker of Chicago, would control the proceedings.

Miss Addams announced that there would be nine speakers, each to occupy ten minutes, and she proceeded with the opening address. The crowd grew momentarily, and before she had finished women were standing on the chairs, in window seats and on desks to get a view of the committee and speakers. Mere members of congress were crowded to the wall to give the women places.

"In presenting our arguments for your consideration," began Miss Addams, "we wish to show you how many women already have the suffrage. More than a million women will vote for president next fall, and more than a half million more have the ballot in municipal elections."

Miss Leonora O'Reilly, of New York, the next speaker, said she would present the arguments of the working women for suffrage. "Don't make fun of us," she began. "I want you to understand that I speak in all seriousness. There are 8,000,000 of us women in the United States who must earn our daily bread. We must have the ballot to enable us to guard our interests while we are doing that. We come to you as a big brother and we say 'do this for us.' Then the people who are behind the big brother says to him 'if you do this thing you will lose your own political power.'"

"Meantime they are speeding us up. They are burning us alive. We of the Triangle fire in New York know that we had been burned alive for gain, for when we went to the courts and tried to get justice we failed."

"When the men come to you with the power of the ballot behind them you heed them. That is the reason we want the ballot, so that we may stand before legislatures and courts equal with men. You have never shirked placing the burden on us since the days of Adam and Eve; give it to us now. We are on the job."

"You think you want to protect us to care for us. Well, you've made a pretty poor job of it. We want the ballot so we can straighten out the political mess you have made."

Miss O'Reilly's earnest address was greeted with a round of applause from the assembled women.

FAIL TO OUST N. J. SENATOR

Richard Fitzherbert Retains His Seat Through Partisan Vote.

Trenton, N. J., March 14.—After a long debate the senate of New Jersey refused to allow expulsion to follow the vote of "guilty" in the case of Senator Fitzherbert, of Morris county.

Fitzherbert was charged with conduct unbecoming a senator of New Jersey in being a go-between in an alleged attempt to "shake down" the Commercial Acetylene company, of New York, by withdrawing bills regulating the commodity sold by the company.

The vote was an entirely partisan one. The vote was eleven for expulsion to seven for retention. Senator Sizor not being present all day and Senator Slocum absent while the vote was being taken.

WHY AINSWORTH QUIT

Secretary Stimson Sends Papers In Adjutant General's Case to House.

Washington, March 14.—Secretary Stimson transmitted to the house the correspondence it requested bearing on the relief from duty of Adjutant General F. C. Ainsworth, prior to his recent voluntary retirement.

Mr. Stimson informed Speaker Clark that he had been directed by President Taft to say that the papers related to a matter of military discipline and executive action, which, by the constitution, is confined exclusively to the president as commander-in-chief of the army, and that their transmission is not to be construed as a recognition of the authority or jurisdiction of the house, or of any of its committees, to require of the chief executive a statement of the reasons of his official action in such matters.

The papers made public disclosed numerous instances of the adjutant general's communications with his associates which the war department construed as examples of language of an intemperate and discourteous character, detrimental to the best interests of the army.

In a memorandum relating to the relief of certain officers from recruiting service under his charge, the war department asserts General Ainsworth stated there were those who would be swift to conclude that these officers were being punished for giving testimony before the house committee on military affairs, which might be regarded as damaging to the chief of staff.

General Ainsworth was relieved by order of President Taft, as the climax of a running fight of twenty odd years between the line and staff of the army for its control.

TWO MORE STATES DECLARE FOR TAFT

Virginia and Tennessee Indorsees President.

Roanoke, Va., March 14.—Four delegates at large, instructed to vote for the renomination of President Taft, were named by the Virginia Republican state convention.

This action puts into the Taft column the entire Virginia delegation of twenty-four votes in the Chicago convention. Only two delegates from the Third district are uninstructed.

The instructions of the delegates at large prescribe that the votes shall be cast for Mr. Taft on every ballot. They were adopted by the convention by a vote of 792 to 64. The resolutions declare that Virginia Republicans honor the president for the enemies he made in vetoing ill-considered tariff bills.

A motion to strike out the instructions for President Taft was debated at length. Every mention of Colonel Roosevelt's name produced an outburst of cheering. During speeches in favor of instructions the name of Taft was cheered with equal enthusiasm. The resolutions adopted praised the administrations of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft.

Tennessee Indorses Taft.

Nashville, Tenn., March 14.—In the state convention the Republicans indorsed Taft and gave to Governor Benjamin W. Hooper a unanimous nomination for the second term. His fellow townsman, H. N. Cate, of Newport, was nominated for the appellate court judgeship. No other nominations were made, thus leaving vacancies to be bid for by the independent Democratic coalition.

G. O. P. CHAIRMAN ILL

John F. Hill, Head of National Committee, Critically Sick.

Boston, March 14.—John Fremont Hill, chairman of the Republican national committee, former governor of Maine and prominent in New England and national politics for years, was stricken with pneumonia at the Hotel Touraine. His condition is critical.

Senator Guilty of Bribery.

Columbus, O., March 14.—A jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of State Senator L. R. Andrews, who is charged with having accepted a bribe in connection with insurance legislation.

33 1/2 Per Cent Oil Dividend.

New York, March 14.—The Standard Oil Company of Nebraska declared a stock dividend of 2000 shares, or 33 1/2 per cent.

REJECT ALL MINERS' DEMANDS

Operators Flatly Refuse Request of Anthracite Men.

THEY WILL CONFER AGAIN

Mine Owners Say Profits Do Not Allow Them to Increase Wages and Ask for Renewal of Present Agreement.

New York, March 14.—When the anthracite operators' committee of ten met representatives of the anthracite miners here a flat refusal to grant the demands of the men for a 20 per cent increase in wages, union recognition and other betterments, was publicly announced.

The position of the operators is thus set forth in the answer:

"After months of painstaking effort in the investigation of the problems presented to them (the strike commission) the award they rendered stands recognized as the most just and sound solution of labor difficulties ever presented in this country. It has stood the test of time, has been twice renewed by mutual agreement, has preserved peace in an industry long subject to contentions and interruptions, has brought good wages to the employees, stability of employment to the many industries dependent upon mining, and general prosperity to the anthracite region. It should be conclusive as to all the facts and issues which it covered, and these have not since changed."

Concerning the demand for an advance in wages of a minimum rate of 20 per cent, the operators called attention to the fact that there was an advance of 10 per cent in 1900, 10 per cent more in 1902, and a further increase of 4 to 10 per cent resulting from the operation of the sliding scale; that since the sliding scale went into effect the bonus paid to the workers on account of it amounts to over $30,000,000, and that estimates based upon the cost sheets of the collieries show that to grant the increase would increase the labor cost for coal about 40 cents per ton of all sizes.

The operators point out that the advance in wages would amount to more than $28,000,000 annually, to which would have to be added the increase due to the sliding scale. "It is out of the question for the operators to advance wages," they say, "unless they can in some manner realize from the sale of coal produced a sum equal to the increase in wages."

Concerning the demand for a one year agreement the operators said that to adopt it now would be to disregard the lesson of the strike commission.

The operators say the demand for a "check off" or "right to provide for a method of the collection of revenue for the organization" is "a measure calculated to establish the closed shop."

The answer points out that none of the arrangements effected by the strike commission has worked out better than the conciliation board.

"The question of the length of the workday for mine workers known as company men was made the subject of an exhaustive study by the strike commission. The commission concluded that a reduction of the hours of labor from ten to nine was fair both to employee and employer. Conditions are the same today, and further to reduce the workday would seriously curtail production," says the answer.

The answer closes with the following proposition to the miners:

"Our proposition is that the present agreement between the anthracite mine workers and the operators be continued for and during a further term of three years from the 1st day of April, 1912."

"We urge careful consideration of our proposition and its acceptance by you."

"We trust that your demands will be withdrawn and that the prosperity which has so long obtained in the anthracite region will not be arbitrarily and unnecessarily disturbed."

While the union representatives would not commit themselves, it is understood that they may ask Friday for a further extension of time to consider the answer. In order to await the result of the conferences in Chicago and Cleveland next week between the bituminous operators and their miners. It is known that the heads of the anthracite locals of the United Mine Workers of America will scarcely consent to a strike if there is peace in the bituminous districts, whereas united action of the entire organization, claiming to control half a million miners, would be effective.

THE SENATE CONFIRMS PITNEY

Opposition to Taft's Appointee Crumbles.

THE VOTE WAS 50 TO 26

Action Hinged on Pitney's Views on Organized Labor—Debate Lasted Three Hours.

Washington, March 14.—The senate confirmed President Taft's appointment of Chancellor Mahlon Pitney, of New Jersey, as associate justice of the supreme court of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Harlan.

The confirmation followed a three-hour discussion Tuesday and further debate in executive session, the opposition turning on a labor decision by Chancellor Pitney.

The vote was 50 to 26. The opposition to Chancellor Pitney crumbled in the first two hours of the senate's executive session.

The twenty-six who voted against Pitney included most of the progressives in both the Democratic and Republican parties. They were: Senators Bacon, Bryan, Bristow, Bourne, Cummins, Kern, Kenyon, Lea, O'Gorman, Poindexter, Reed, Smith (Georgia), Taylor, Williams, Chamberlain, Culberson, Gardner, Gore, Hitchcock, Johnson, Myers, Newlands, Pomerene, Rayner, Shively, Smith (South Carolina).

The three hours of discussion turned on the interpretation of Chancellor Pitney's views on organized labor as expressed in his opinion in the case of the George Jonas Glass company against the Glass Bottle Blowers' association. Up to the present stage of the controversy no objection has been made to the decision itself, which is evidently regarded as a proper one.

Senator O'Gorman attacked certain general expressions in the opinion, and other opposing senators took exception to Chancellor Pitney's view that the New Jersey statute did not authorize "peaceable persuasion" by strikers to induce workmen to quit the service of an employer if this persuasion had for its object the crippling of the employer's business.

In the record of the case which was before the senate Vice Chancellor Bergen, whose decision Chancellor Pitney sustained, held that terror reigned in the strike-ridden village for several days; peaceable citizens seeking work were met on the highways by strikers and turned back; persons who sought to move into the town were stopped and permitted to proceed only through the interference of peace officers; private dwellings were visited by bands of men to deter strike-breakers, and one employee who returned to work was mysteriously assassinated.

Senator Borah said in defending Chancellor Pitney that the conditions of the strike were such that it was impossible to draw the line between peaceable persuasion and interference by threats, and no one of the opposing senators attempted to combat this view, but relied on statements in the opinion, apart from the facts of the case as their ground for opposing the confirmation.

BANDITS FOILED AND KILLED

Young Hero Halts Train Hold-Up in Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., March 14.—A express messenger, David M. Trousdale, balked the robbery of a South Pacific passenger train near San Antonio, when he trapped two highway men, who held up the flyer, and killed both of them.

The robbers boarded the train a few miles east of Sanderson. The mail, express cars and locomotive were detached. Then the engineer, facing the robbers' guns, was compelled to run the coaches ahead.

One of the robbers took Trousdale back to the train and kept him under guard, while the other robber held up the crew in the cars ahead and started to rifle the safe and express boxes. Trousdale is said to have employed the old ruse of signalling to an innkeeper person back of his captor. When the robber turned Trousdale grasped a mallet, and before the highwayman could shoot killed him with a blow on the head.

Then, arming himself with the dead man's gun, Trousdale waited for the other bandit's return. After he had rifled the express boxes the second man came back to the coaches and Trousdale killed him. All of the stolen property was recovered.

To Drop Tax on Cigars Employees Smoke

Washington, March 14.—That cigar manufacturers may not be forced to pay the internal revenue tax on the cigars smoked by their employees, Representative W. W. Grist, of Lancaster, Pa., introduced a bill providing for their exemption from the tax. The manufacturer is to be allowed twenty-one cigars per employee per week, or three cigars a day for each cigar-maker. The men smoke the cigars anyhow, and the manufacturers have been forced to pay the tax during the past year under a treasury ruling.

EWES IN COLD WEATHER.

Shelter and Grain Keep Them In Thrifty Condition.

The average man is apt to neglect his breeding ewes at the beginning of winter. Usually they are kept out too long. Their ability to pick close perennials to fill up on the frozen, nutritious herbage, and they look well when they really are losing flesh every day, writes E. P. Snyder in the National Stockman.

They especially need shelter at this time. It often takes weeks to repair the loss of flesh and condition caused by one cold rain that soaks them to the skin, especially if the rain is followed by a high wind as it is quite apt to be at this inclement season.

Hay this season is scarce and unusually high in price. Sheep will be largely wintered on straw, stalks and a range where one is available, supplemented with a liberal allowance of grain, for hay is now selling at about the same price per ton as ear corn. But it is mistaken economy to withhold hay from the breeding ewes at the beginning of winter. A little good clover or mixed hay should be fed every day till they become accustomed to dry feed. They can much better be made to live on coarser and cheaper roughness later in the winter, when accustomed to dry feed.

Many feed no grain to their breeding ewes till well toward spring. This is a mistake unless only a few are kept together and they have considerable range or extra care and plenty of good hay. Kept in flocks of considerable size there are usually some that are not as thrifty as they should be. They get thin in flesh and as soon as they get grain they begin to thrive and at the same time shed their wool. This gives the flock a disreputable appearance and the wool a weak fiber that makes it what buyers call "understrapped."

I believe ewes can be as cheaply wintered if a little grain is fed every day right from the start every year, and I know they can this year, taking into consideration the high price of hay.

No stock seems to appreciate a variety of feed as much as the sheep. Frequent changes of both grain and roughness seem to interest them. It stimulates their appetites and hence induces to thrive. For grain we feed corn and oats of about equal bulk, salt regularly twice a week and have water accessible all the time.

BLIZZARD 24 YEARS AGO

Twenty four years ago, Tuesday, Gettysburg and other sections of the county and state were completely isolated because of the greatest blizzard ever known.

Snow began falling on Saturday, March 10, 1888, and by Sunday morning the earth was covered to a depth of 12 to 16 inches. On Sunday evening the wind shifted suddenly to the northwest and blew a gale hurling the snow in all directions. With the shifting of the wind the temperature dropped to near the zero mark.

Telegraph and telephone wires were prostrated in all directions and traffic on the railroads came to a standstill, and it was impossible to release those stalled by drifts until the storm subsided.

The schools were dismissed and business generally was interrupted. Many of the workmen were unable to reach their places of employment.

On Tuesday, March 13, all the railroad trains were tied up and there were no mails or newspapers for nearly a week. Several trains were snowed in at various points and the railroads employed hundreds of extra men to help dig them out.

This blizzard had been reported before but we take it that some of our readers may have forgotten about it.

DR. HARVEY WILEY RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Enemy of Food Poisoners to Become an Editor.

New York, March 14. — "Printers Ink" announces the resignation of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley as chief of the United States bureau of chemistry.

Dr. Wiley will become contributing editor of "Good Housekeeping." He has been in the bureau of chemistry for twenty-nine years. "His only reason for changing his base of operations," says "Printers Ink," is to secure greater independence and freedom of action. Just what the new contributing editor will contribute remains to be seen. Even the publishers of "Good Housekeeping" themselves do not know. One thing is decided on—that is, that he is to have an absolutely free hand."

ITALIANS KILL 1000 ARABS

Report Storming and Taking of Strongly Entrenched Bases Near Fojat. Benghazi, Tripolitania, March 14. — More than 1000 Arabs were killed and another 1000 wounded, according to Italian advisers, in the course of one of the stiffest encounters of the war when the Italians stormed and occupied two bases situated to the north east of Fojat, which were strongly entrenched and held by a large force of Arabs.

The Arabs were routed at the point of the bayonet. More than 400 Arab corpses were left on the battlefield, and the Italian officers report that a large number were carried off by the retreating enemy.

The loss of the Italian troops was announced as three officers and twenty-five soldiers killed and seven officers and fifty-five soldiers wounded.

Reports Defeat of Italians.

Constantinople, March 14.—Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in the district of Benghazi, reports to the Turkish war ministry an important Turco-Arab success at Tobruk. He says that the Italians were driven out of their positions and retreated to their ships after a battle which lasted eleven hours. Edhem Pasha estimated the Italian casualties at 2000 killed and wounded. The Turkish losses were also heavy.

HAWLEY'S WARD SETTLES

Gets Two Houses and $25,000 a Year From Estate.

New York, March 14.—A statement attributed to John B. Stanchfield, attorney for the heirs of the late Edwin Hawley, printed here, says that a settlement has been made by the heirs upon Miss Margaret Cameron, the late financier's ward, by which she will receive an annual income of $25,000 from the estate.

Besides this $25,000 a year she will retain the Hawley house on East Sixtieth street and the country place at Babylon, L. I. The properties are valued together at $1,000,000. The settlement, according to Mr. Stanchfield, was made by a friendly arrangement involving all concerned.

Republican Caucus Against Free Sugar. Washington, March 14.—Republicans of the house in caucus declared that the free sugar bill proposed by the Democrats of the house was a political plot for votes, and that the extension of the corporation tax to individuals and copartnerships to make up the revenue that would be lost from sugar was its companion piece.
